... make visible, poetically, the energies that fill and transform the public and private spaces we inhabit

Old toys precipitate new toys, and on and on until we arrive at the mature works we refer to not as sculptures but as objects

ELLEPHANT is pleased to present The Gathering by Robbin Deyo: a celebration of form, shape, colour, repetition, pattern, energies and oppositions.

Evoking flowers, snowflakes or molecules. Sea urchins, stars or the spokes of a wagon wheel

Explosive symbols of powerful forces larger than ourselves

Born and raised in the Lower Mainland of British Columbia, Robbin Deyo has lived and worked in Montreal for over 20 years. She completed a BFA at Emily Carr Institute of Art & Design (1995) and a MFA from Concordia University (1998). Her work has been presented in exhibitions across Canada, in the United States, and Europe. Her recent exhibitions include the Manif d'art: la Biennale de Québec at the Musée national des Beaux-Arts du Québec in 2017 and a solo exhibition Still Moving at the Ottawa Art Gallery in 2016.
